Abstract

Marijuana seed banks deliver cannabis seeds around the world, including the United States. Currently online, there exists over 200 active cannabis seed banks that sell seeds from a variety of breeders and seed companies. While many of the seed banks online serve a niche "craft" market, a few cannabis seed banks stand above the rest as primary distributors.

1 Introduction to Seed Banks

A seed bank starts from a collection of seeds. Cannabis seed banks are made of people that collect seeds and distribute them, by a variety of means and methods.

1.1 The Marijuana Seed Bank Business

Modern day cannabis culture has led to the growth of online marijuana seed banks. Prevalent in advertisements and heard by word of mouth, it is well known that online cannabis seed banks provide a way for people around the world to obtain marijuana seeds via postal mail parcel.

The success of an online cannabis seed bank largely depends on a few key factors:

- Promotion of the seed bank
- Selection and prices of the seeds
- Ease of ordering and payment methods
- Delivery methods
- Customer service

Without any of the above factors, the cannabis seed bank will likely become a "ghost town". Through the years, a large number of cannabis seed banks have faded into obscurity. Often times the most common scenario is the seed bank lost their payment processing ability. Finding marijuana seed banks that can easily process credit cards/debit cards is a major criteria of many consumers.

2 Buying Marijuana Seeds Online from the US

Buying marijuana seeds online can be accomplished simply by visiting any of the online cannabis seed banks that ship to US. The best marijuana seed banks provide fast, discreet shipping to the United States and around the world. Typically, the seeds arrive within one business week.

2.1 Selecting the Right Seeds to Grow

Seed selection primarily depends on the methods and area used to grow the prospective plants. Under most circumstances, the majority of hybrids available on the market will grow in nearly all conditions. However, by choosing the right seeds for your area by looking at the genetics, the grower can optimize their output of high-quality cannabis.

Indoor growers can refer to the grams per meter squared to determine the yield potential of their grow. Outdoor growers rather consider the possible grams per plant, or kilos per plant.

Sativa plants grow larger, taller and flower for a longer time than their indica cousins. By analyzing the flowering times of the seed strains, the consumer can plan the specifications needed for their next grow.

2.2 Free Seeds and Promotions

Seed banks offer free seeds and promotional giveaways that may appeal to the cannabis seed buyer. For example, the Seedsman seed bank offers free Cheese seeds with every order, along with additional free seeds that go up in quantity with the order price.

Referring to the free seed and promotion pages on the online cannabis seed bank websites can uncover the latest free seed offers. Following the seed bank companies on social media can also give the consumer access to promotions and giveaways as soon as they go live.

2.3 Seed Banks Located in the United States

Due to the harsh laws regarding cannabis seed selling, most of the top-ranking cannabis seed banks are located in Europe, Canada and other countries where the laws are more willing to accept marijuana seed businesses. Banking and card processing is the biggest difficulty for US based seed banks at the moment.

However the future may show a new development in the cannabis seed business if laws change to allow US banks to interact with legal marijuana businesses that require banking services.
